

About this page

Hello everyone, I am an artist as well as a web professional. The focus of my career development has gone shifted over the last 10+ years across illustration, design, and timebased work. At this point, I am most interested in web and interaction development. My current passion is working on Drupal. As such, I wanted to provide a simple module for beginners to Drupal to install and play with. I have the same module written in Drupal 5 and 6, and its available here for download. It contains examples of a few key features to a typical module.

- A form
- Permissions
- A block
- A simple administration page

This module simple makes a simple form available to a website, via Drupal's block system. An admin may save a series of keyword-path pairs in an administration page. When a user visits the site, they can use the form in conjunction with a keyword to be linked directly to the path that was paired with the keyword

I hope people find this helpful.

- Keywordredirect for Drupal 5
- Keywordredirect for Drupal 6

I can be emailed at tony [at] 2toast [dot] com.
